DETAILED ACTION

1. Acknowledgement is made in the receipt of the amendment filed December 18, 2006.

The amendment has been approved for entry. However, it appears the examiner has not properly addressed the issues of claim 41, as such the final rejection is hereby withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

4. Claim 41 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 4,310,064 to Kazarian, Jr.

Kazarian, Jr. teach a car comprising: a frame supported by a plurality of wheels; an accelerator pedal 16; a brake pedal 24 includes a unitary foot actuated portion; a brake system receiving input from said brake pedal and generating an output to control a braking device through an operating stroke; and a brake pedal locking mechanism 12 operatively cooperating with said brake pedal to provide a single locked position (see figure 5) beyond an end of the operating stroke, the locking mechanism providing only a single distinctive clicking sound caused by a sharp metal-to-metal contact in the locking mechanism (caused by the impact of latch 56 with stop tab 74, each is made from a metal as indicated in the figures, see cross hatching, the return spring 64 will cause latch 56 to rotate or swing towards tab 74, upon which the metal to metal noise would be created), this would inform an operator that said brake pedal has been depressed into a position to be latched in said single locked position, wherein the distinctive clicking sound is caused by one metal component (interpreted as latch 56) of the locking mechanism swinging through an arc to cause the sharp contact with a second metal component 74 of the locking mechanism.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 20, 21, 25-33 and 37-40 are allowed.
6. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art of record fails to anticipate or render obvious the brake pedal subsequently depressed beyond the locked position to unlatch the locking mechanism.
